

ECOVADIS 2025: DELABIE RETAINS ITS GOLD MEDAL AND CONTINUES TO PROGRESS!

In its fifth entry, DELABIE has once again received an EcoVadis gold medal for its performance and engagement in CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility).

Its score has now reached 80/100, which is an improvement from 2024 (74/100). This places us:

- This places us in the top 3% of evaluated companies worldwide, up from 5% in 2024
- in the top 1% in our sector.

Evolution of DELABIE's EcoVadis score:

Progression in a more exacting context

This year, EcoVadis changed its approach: the scores are no longer decided in concrete terms, but instead in comparison with other companies.

In this more competitive framework, DELABIE is not only fighting to keep a gold medal, but also to improve its score in the global rankings.

A recognised engagement in CSR:

EcoVadis evaluated over 150,000 companies in 2025 (126,000 in 2024) and nearly 6000 in our sector.

In this context, DELABIE has placed:

- In the top 1% environmentally
- In the top 2% for Social and Human Rights, Ethics and Responsible Procurement.

These results reinforce the acknowledgment of our concrete aims to:

- reduce water and energy consumption,
- guarantee the reparability and longevity of our products,
- promote responsible practices in our buying processes and management,
- put in place measures in favour of colleagues and local players.

A collective success

This gold medal illustrates the strength of our CSR mission and the years of teamwork.

It is the result of the daily involvement of everyone at DELABIE. In 2025, DELABIE applied its culture of excellence to this significant mission. Roll on 2026!
